THE PACIFIC PIRATES.

The Rorique Brothers Now on Trial at Brest.

LONDON, Dec. 5.—(By Cable and Associated Press.)—A dispatch to the Standard from Paris, referring to the trial of the Pacific piracy case at Brest, gives the following details of the mutiny on the Nineroahiti:

"The night that Rorique seized the schooner, Joseph Rorique took his watch till 8 o'clock midnight. He was joined by his brother and the murderous work at once began. The native captain, Zara, was stretched upon the deck, asleep, and was shot and thrown overboard. The report of the pistol and the splash of the body of the crew as it struck the water aroused Super-cerfs Gibson and Cook Mirey. Rorique called Gibson to come on deck and he was also shot and thrown overboard. A little later Mirey was summoned to come up and obeyed, trembling with fear and begging for his life, promising the brothers that he would keep their secret if his life was spared."

"On the second day after the mutiny, Alexandre Rorique ordered Mirey to drink each of the five Kanakas formed the crew a glass of rum. Only two of them would do so, and the others died on the same day. The remaining three, fearing an attempt at poisoning, refused to partake of food for several days, until at last they became so terrified by the threats of the Roriques that they jumped overboard and were drowned."

"On the arrival of the vessel at Ponape, the Rorique brothers and Mirey, under changed names, and went to the taverns for drink. Mirey, during the temperance license, the Roriques begged the inn-keeper to conduct him to the governor. Before this could be done, the brothers returned and ordered Mirey aboard the vessel. He refused to obey and, on their attempting to force him, a guard was called, and Mirey was taken to the authorities as the murderer. All three were arrested, and, after Mirey's confession had been heard, were all turned over to the French authorities.

"CROOKED" SPORT.

Palpable Frauds in the Bennington Races Result in Summary Rulings.

BENNINGTON (D. C.) Dec. 5.—(By the Associated Press.) In the fourth race Lozette was backed by Alexander Shields, her owner, and was given out as a good thing, although many of those present expected Rightaway to win. Lozette, in passing the grandstand, was in the lead, and was never overtaken, but, as she was a powerful filly, was very close to her, and could have won easily if Shields had not called to the jockey to pull up. The fraud was so palpable that the judges ruled Shields, George Cousins, the reputed owner of Powerful and Joe, and William Shields and Robert Hawksley off the track; also the horses, Rightaway, Lozette and Rightaway. Summary:

Half a mile: Caprice won, She (fly) second. Kingstock third; time 0:50.

BURBANK THEATER—Richard III.

TRIAL BY JURY.

The shameful manner in which the Cronin jury has been tampered with in Chicago is another example of the rotten condition to which the jury system has come in this country. When the jury system was first devised, it was regarded as an efficient means of securing justice to both the accused and the accused; but it has now come to pass—at least in this country—that the jury system is a ready means of defeating the ends of justice and letting criminals who are able to command some money free to go and sin some more, as often as they please, provided they do not happen to so far arouse the indignation of the community as to run up against an unofficial jury of citizens armed with a rope. Almost any shrewd lawyer, who is not too much troubled with qualms of conscience, can so manipulate a jury nowadays as to make almost certain of an acquittal, or at least of a disagreement, which practically amounts to the same thing; for, if sufficient delay can be secured between the commission of a crime and the trial of the accused, it becomes very difficult to obtain a conviction. Witnesses have disappeared, public interest has died out, and everything works in favor of the presumably guilty party. Jury-fixing has now become a recognized branch of industry in this country, and a lawyer who wishes to keep up with the times necessarily has to take this disgraceful feature of our dispensation of justice into consideration, whether he avails himself of it or not.

Taking these things into consideration, it is no wonder that the jury system has come into such disrepute. When a verdict is rendered in an important case that is not found to be in accordance with the evidence, it is taken for granted that some of the jurors have been influenced. This is not only a disgraceful but a dangerous state of affairs, which strikes at the very foundation of liberty, law and order. It is high time that there should be some modification in the present system of trial by jury—at least so far as to make a two-thirds majority sufficient for conviction. This would render the work of jury-fixers much more difficult, and give the prosecuting attorneys of the country more chance to put a larger proportion of the criminal element where they belong.

THE MEXICAN TRADE.

A few days ago we referred to the fact that an effort was being made by California fruit-growers to open up trade with Mexico. We then showed some of the difficulties which our merchants will have to overcome before they can expect to build up an extensive trade with Mexico and the Central and South American countries, which offer such profitable markets to our manufacturers and producers. A correspondent of the Chronicle draws attention to another great obstacle in the path of trade relations between this State and Mexico. This is the heavy freight to Mexican points, in comparison with the rates which are charged from the Eastern States and Europe.

An instance is given, in May, 1890, a merchant of San Luis Potosi, Mexico, desiring to import California wines in bulk, wrote to San Francisco for quotations, and also for freight rates. The information which he received was that while San Francisco wine merchants were willing to make prices which would compete with French wines, the Southern Pacific and Santa Fe railroads wanted $3.20 per hundred pounds freight for transportation to Agua Caliente, about 150 miles west of San Luis Potosi. Afterward it was learned that these same wines could be purchased from the New York branch houses of the San Francisco wine merchants at about the same prices, and that the cost of transportation for similar shipments from New York to San Luis Potosi was only $3.20 per hundred pounds.

As against this rate of $3.20 per hundred pounds from San Francisco, freight rates for the class under consideration from England to the City of Mexico and San Luis Potosi were $3 shillings per gross ton, or about 90 cents American money per hundred pounds. The rates from France and Germany were usually about $1.00, which would make the freight a trifle more from the latter countries than from England. Still, the rates from these European countries would be so low as to shut out almost all American merchandise. But this is not all. The port of Vera Cruz is frequented by trans-steamers, which load with steel rails, machinery or other heavy freight in foreign ports, and then complete their cargoes with general merchandise, taken at figures much below the regular rates stated above, enabling the shippers to take advantage of rates often as low as 60 or 70 cents per hundred pounds. It is, as this correspondent says, a surprising condition of commercial affairs, when Europe can ship her wares via New Orleans, as is continually done, and thence by rail to the City of Mexico at a rate of 10 cents per hundred pounds, when New Orleans has to pay on similar shipments $2.25 per hundred pounds to the city of San Luis Potosi, or to the Mexican capital. If water transportation has such an influence upon rail transportation that the merchants of England or New York can land their goods at the port of New Orleans and thence ship them by rail a distance of 1500 miles to the City of Mexico, at the rate of from any other cause, weak, it must be fortified in order that it may be enabled to maintain its position and parity with the other.

Americans do not have much success in getting up funds for the purpose of building monuments to distinguished people who have died. We all remember the difficulty which was experienced in raising the Grant monument fund, and now it is announced that the movement started last spring to raise money for a monument to be erected to the memory of James G. Blaine, the treasurer of the Blaine Memorial Association reports that but $115 has been paid in. Monuments to the departed do not seem to catch the public idea in this country. Perhaps if these monuments would assume a more useful shape such as instance as a college, museum, public library or a park, it would be more easy to secure the necessary funds in such cases.

A correspondent writes to ask whether the bill providing for the suspension of the statute requiring $100 worth of work on unpatented mining-claims for 1893 was signed by the President, or what is the present status of it. The bill was signed, only South Dakota being excluded from its provisions.

The society element of the city was largely represented, most of the boxes and loges being occupied.

Nearly all the performers received hearty encores, to which responses were made.

A pleasing feature of the evening was the public debut of Miss Etta B. Jacoby, a young lady of this city with a remarkable gift of voice, which promises much for the future.

Mrs. J. W. Mitchell, whose Scotch ballads are very popular, responded to a shout, "Shall I Wear a White Rose?" by Payne.

The concert was arranged and directed by Mme. Fabri-Muller, and proved in all ways successful.

[COURT RECORD.]

HE OWES THE FIRM.Facts About the Fitzhenry Failure.*Judge Shaw Analyzes the Manager's Accounts.*He is Still Indebted to the Insolvent Concern.*The Van Sciever Bond Case Before Judge McKinley—Adjudged Insane—Probate Matters—Court Notes.

In the matter of the insolvency of Mrs. R. B. Fitzhenry it was ordered by Judge Shaw, yesterday afternoon, that the motion to vacate the appointment of William Cord as assignee thereof be denied; and that to annul the proof of the claim of J. H. Blanchard and strike the same from the list of claims voting for assignee be granted. The reasons for this decision are set forth in the following brief but pithy opinion:

The principal contest in regard to the election of the assignee arises over the claims of J. H. Blanchard. This claim, if any there be, accrued in favor of F. C. Fitzhenry, the husband of the insolvent, for services for two years past, as business manager. He had entire charge of the business, making all the sales and purchases, and receiving and disbursing all money, and he was never called on by the insolvent to render any account. The schedules show that the insolvent is indebted to him to the amount of $5100.97, besides the amount of the claim in controversy, being mostly debts for goods purchased to carry on the business."

J. C. Fitzhenry testified that the original stock of the insolvent at the invoice price amounted to about $3000, and it is deduced that before it was taken from Pasadena to Los Angeles in October 1891, that the goods sold were sold at an average profit of 35 per cent, and that the total expenses of the family were for the last two years about $1000. He also said that the amount of goods bought to replace the stock during the two years would not exceed $4000, but the books introduced in evidence, kept by him, show that the goods purchased on credit alone during that time amounted to $10,000.

Taking the amount of the original stock put into the house at Los Angeles at $5000, the account of the manager with the insolvent would stand as follows:

Stock on hand, October 1, 1891, $ 5000.00
Goods afterwards purchased.... 8162.26

Total stock received..... $13,162.26
Less stock on hand on filing of petition as per schedule..... 3,000.00

Balance remaining, sold by cost price..... $10,162.26
Add profits at 35 per cent on cost price..... 3,500.00

Total cash receipts during the two years..... $13,662.26

Deduct expense account, books, etc..... $35,154.15

Amounts drawn by J. C. Fitzhenry, as per books..... 884.65

Expenses of family, as per books..... 1,000.00

6,998.50

Balance to apply on debts.... $6,663.46

This sum, it will be seen, is less than the amount of goods purchased, and if it had all been applied to the payment of the bills there would be a deficiency, and $1498.50 of the bills would remain unpaid; but the concern would not be insolvent, as the $3000 of stock remaining would be more than enough to pay all in full. But the schedules show that there are bills still outstanding amounting to $4944.37, upon which it appears that the manager has applied only $3219.09 of this money to the payment of bills. This leaves $3444.37 unapplied. That is to say, if J. C. Fitzhenry has kept correct books as manager and testified truly as witness, instead of being the sum of $3219 due him for services, he will owe the insolvent estate the sum of $1422.57 after paying himself all he claims.

I think, therefore, that his claim ought not to be allowed, nor ought it be counted among the claims voting in the election of assignee.

CRYSTAL SPRINGS WATER CASE.

When the case of the city of Los Angeles vs. the Crystal Springs Land and Water Company was called by Judge Van Dyke in Department Four, yesterday afternoon, counsel for the defendant moved the court for a judgment of nonsuit, upon eight different grounds, whereinupon the jury was excused, pending the hearing of said motion, and the whole of the day's session was consumed in hearing the arguments.

The eight grounds referred to may be briefly stated as follows:

(1) That the evidence does not prove that the city is the owner of the water flowing through the so-called drain pipes referred to in the evidence, because it is shown by said evidence that the water is derived from the soil through which said pipes are laid, and through lands granted by the Mexican government to private parties, and further that said lands are outside of the city limits.

(2) That the evidence fails to prove that the city has been deprived of any water whatever, but on the contrary, shows that the waters of the Los Angeles River are not only undiminished in quantity, but that more water has been flowing down to the northern limits of the city than for four or five years, and ever since said pipes were laid, than ever before in the past forty years.

(3) That the evidence is insufficient to prove that the city has suffered any damage, and that it is deduced before it was taken from Pasadena to Los Angeles in October 1891, that the goods sold were sold at an average profit of 35 per cent, and that the total expenses of the family were for the last two years about $1000. He also said that the amount of goods bought to replace the stock during the two years would not exceed $4000, but the books introduced in evidence, kept by him, show that the goods purchased on credit alone during that time amounted to $10,000.

(4) That the evidence fails to prove that the defendant took any water from the Los Angeles River, or elsewhere, or used or distributed the same for any purpose.

(5) That the evidence further proves that all the waters flowing through the pipes of the Crystal Springs Land and Water Company did not necessarily in supplying the city and its inhabitants, come from the flow from the works situated into the city of San Joaquin, as the city desires.

(6) There is no evidence to prove that the city has or ever had any water works of any kind by which to appropriate, use, or distribute the water of the river.

(7) There is no evidence of diversion on the part of the defendant.

(8) There is no evidence that plaintiff has been damaged by any act of defendant.

The matter was argued at considerable length by Hon. S. M. White, in support of the motion; but City Attorney McFarland took up very little of the time of the court in opposition to it.

The remainder of the session was consumed by J. S. Chapman, Esq., who had not completed his argument on behalf of the defendant when court adjourned for the day.

Journed for the day. The case will be taken up again this morning.

DAVIS VS. CHAFFEE.

Judge Clarke yesterday rendered his decision in the case of W. J. Davis vs. S. S. Chaffee, an action to quiet title to two lots in block B of the Bonnie Brae tract, ordering findings and judgment for the defendant therein, for the reason set forth in a lengthy written opinion.

The facts in the case are as follows: Both parties deraign title from a common source, one Dietrich Kuck. In April, 1887, said Kuck executed on said premises to secure a note of $3500, but, on April 15, 1888, the note was released and new mortgage executed securing a note of $5000. The premises were then described as lots 23 and 24 of the Bonnie Brae tract, as the same appear upon the map thereof recorded at page 5, book 9, etc., but no reference was made to the block, and the map referred to shows the tract to contain three blocks, in each of which are lots 23 and 24. Kuck had title, however, to no lots in said tract so numbered, except in block B thereof. In May, 1890, Chaffee brought suit against Kuck to repossess and foreclose said mortgage, and filed a lis pendens. Defendant in said action subsequently died, and judgement was entered, in June 1890, for plaintiff, as prayed for therein, and the premises were sold to Chaffee in July, 1890, for the debt and cost, and the judgment satisfied, the sheriff's deed then being executed in January, 1891. In February, 1891, however, Kuck declared a homestead on said premises, and in April, 1890, he and his wife executed a deed to one Gitchell, the description therein being lots 23 and 24, block B, of the "Boney Brae tract." It is under this deed and by various conveyances that plaintiff now claims title. The deed recites that the property is subject to a mortgage of $5000, and was not recorded until January 9, 1891.

In the action brought, as above stated, by Chaffee against Kuck, neither Mr. Kuck nor Gitchell were present, but the latter appeared by a pleading which he termed an intervention, for the purpose of having an order made therein appointing a receiver vacated, in which he alleges the conveyance to him, and that he is the owner in fee of the premises, subject to the incumbrance of the mortgage sought to be foreclosed, and that he appears only for the purpose above stated.

From this statement of facts, says the court, it is plainly apparent that there are no equities in plaintiff's case. He can have no better title than his son-in-law Gitchell, who, when he made his claim, and that the latter took with knowledge of the mortgage of April 13, 1888, is made evident by the recital in the deed to him that it is made subject to such mortgage, and by his admission in his pleading in the action of Chaffee vs. Kuck, in which he admits that his title is subject to said mortgage.

The trial of the case against A. Fallung, upon the charge of robbery, came to an abrupt conclusion in Department One yesterday morning, the defense offering no testimony, and the jury rendering a verdict of acquittal "by reason of the variance of the proof and the absence of the information." Falling, however, much to the dissatisfaction of the court, was remanded by Judge Smith, who instructed the District Attorney to file an amended information in conformity with the proof.

The defendants in the case of the Johnsons vs. the Company, L. E. F. Phelan et al., an action to foreclose a mortgage on eighteen bonds of the Grapeland Irrigation District, having submitted to a default, Judge Shaw yesterday afternoon rendered judgment against them for $1516.63, as prayed for.

The divorce suit instituted by A. Johnson against O. A. Johnson, upon the alleged ground of cruelty, came up for trial in Department Six yesterday morning, but after hearing two witnesses for the plaintiff, Judge McKinley deferred the matter for further hearing.

Judge McKinley yesterday granted leave to A. L. Hull, assignee of the estate of L. M. Wagner, to file a complaint in intervention in the case of H. Susskind vs. J. C. Cline, and the brother of the defendant, and Mrs. Adie B. Van Sciever, defendant's wife, and he again secured his release. He was duly arraigned in the Superior Court, and the case set for trial on June 19, just before which date arrived, Van Sciever failed to respond, and this suit resulted.

The defendants claim that the bond was not made in accordance with the requirements of the statutes, and that it was void because it was not taken or approved by the court in which such bond could by law be required. Justice Bartholomew having lost jurisdiction.

ADJUDGED INSANE.

John F. Burroughs, a native of Illinois, 45 years of age, and a laborer by occupation, was adjudged insane and committed to the State asylum at Highlands by Judge McKinley, yesterday afternoon, in accordance with the recommendations of Drs. West Hughes and Cowles, the examining commissioners.

Burroughs has threatened to kill his family on several occasions, and frequently abuses them in a shameful manner. His malady, which first made its appearance ten years ago, is attributed to injury to his head, received shortly before that time; but the fact that his mother was insane may also account in some measure for his unfortunate condition.

PROBATE MATTERS.

In the Probate Court yesterday morning Judge Clark transacted the following business: Estates of Lucca Schachich, John J. Sheehan, R. J. Pittman and Leonard Wilson, deceased; final accounts filed, and a distribution made as prayed for. Estate of Mary M. The trial of the case against A. Fallung, upon the charge of robbery, came to an abrupt conclusion in Department One yesterday morning, the defense offering no testimony, and the jury rendering a verdict of acquittal "by reason of the variance of the proof and the absence of the information." Falling, however, much to the dissatisfaction of the court, was remanded by Judge Smith, who instructed the District Attorney to file an amended information in conformity with the proof.

The defendants in the case of the Johnsons vs. the Company, L. E. F. Phelan et al., an action to foreclose a mortgage on eighteen bonds of the Grapeland Irrigation District, having submitted to a default, Judge Shaw yesterday afternoon rendered judgment against them for $1516.63, as prayed for.

IT IS true you can find plenty of Cloaks in Los Angeles, but do you know whether you have paid a fair profit or an unfair profit. This is the only house in the city where the goods are marked in plain figures and sold for the price they are marked. It is the only house in the city where money is refunded on unsatisfactory purchase. It is the only house in the city where the forcing of sales is not tolerated. We want business—we want it only upon advanced business ideas; upon the idea of good treatment; to treat ladies as ladies; to make correct representations and to carry out conscientious ideas. To force a customer into buying an article she does not want is a reflection on a man's chivalry. And yet this is being daily done in Los Angeles in the nineteenth century; forcing sales, charging more than the goods are marked, taking advantage of a woman's timidity. We cannot afford to to business that way. We make statements that bear the impress of truth. That gives the store a good name. We give no discounts; we make no false statements; sell goods at the price they are marked, and the result is we sell more Cloaks than any two of the largest Cloak houses combined. Today elegant framed pictures free with a five-dollar purchase.

SOUTHERN CALIFORNIA

PASADENA.

No News from Winston—Board of Trade Meeting.

The City Council in Special Session—Universalist Fair Notes—Evangelistic Work—People Coming and Going—Brevities.

Charley Brown and Grant Griswold, who have been searching in the mountains ten days for L. C. Winston, returned to Pasadena about 6 o'clock, Tuesday evening. They found absolutely no trace of the missing man, further than that reported by Messrs. Hartwell and Wright, who returned Thanksgiving day. Brown was one of the men who accompanied Winston on the hunting trip and who last saw him in Buckhorn Canyon, two weeks ago last Friday. The search has been kept up continuously and has been given up for the lost man. The mystery deepens.

BOARD OF TRADE BUSINESS.

A directors meeting of the Board of Trade was held Tuesday afternoon. President C. H. Keyes presided and W. H. Knight acted in his official capacity as secretary. A. G. Throop, M. H. Wright and Theo Coleman were the other members of the board present.

Mr. Keyes who with W. U. Masters was appointed to represent Pasadena in Midwinter Fair matters, reported the progress made so far at the meetings held in Los Angeles. On motion of Mr. Coleman, Messrs. Keyes and Masters were chosen to continue to act in like capacity.

Ex-Gov. L. A. Sheldon addressed the board with reference to an article on "Southern California," from his pen, that appears in the current issue of the Californian. Mr. Sheldon thought the article would prove to be a valuable advertisement for this section of the country, and suggested that the Board of Trade purchase a number of copies. On motion the matter was referred to a committee composed of Messrs. Throop, Wright and Coleman.

The new editor of the Herald, who had come out from Los Angeles, had a hearing. He stated that the proprietors of the paper represented by him have in mind the issuance of a special number which Pasadena will receive "write-up"—providing sufficient financial encouragement is forthcoming, all of which led up to a modest request from the visitor that the board puzzle up a good round sum to pay for the same. The speaker added that a special number such as contemplated would entail much work, and that the proprietors were in a hurry. He would be much obliged, therefore, if the board would take immediate action—that is, puzzle up immediately—or something else that would help. Keyes succeeded in looking solace while he inquired what should be done. Mr. Coleman came to the rescue by moving that the matter be referred to the same committee that had given Sheldons permission to write up. The motion was unanimously adopted.

The Herald man afterwards intimated to a member of the committee that a page write-up would come at about $100 or $150.

J. J. Wadsworth, J. W. Fairbanks and the firm of Wooster & Cahill were admitted to membership. A. J. Wallace was granted permission to withdraw his name from the membership lists.

Bills to the amount of $148.33 were audited and approved.

The board referred in failing terms to the death of A. J. Painter, an honored director of the board. On motion, a committee composed of Messrs. Keyes, Coleman and P. M. Green, was appointed to draft suitable resolutions.

The secretary was authorized to purchase a set of books.

The meeting then adjourned.

STREET WORK BOOMING.

A special session of the City Council was held Tuesday afternoon. President Weed presided, and all the trustees were present except Mr. Lukens.

Specifications were adopted for the following street work: Grading, guttering and curbing between Vernon and Fair Oaks avenues; regressing, recutting and reguttering Fair Oaks avenue from Vineyard street south to the north line of Wallis street, produced in westerly direction; sidewalk, curbing and guttering Franklin street; sidewalk, curbing and guttering Main Place and Vernon avenues; grading and guttering Vernon avenue from Walnut to Colorado street; grading, guttering and curbing Lake avenue, between Colorado and California streets; grading, curbing and guttering the south side of Colorado street for a short distance east of Broadway street to Orange Grove avenue; curbing and guttering Colorado street between Pasadena and Vernon avenues; curbing and guttering the west side of Los Robles between Center and California streets. Resolutions were passed ordering the work to be done.

A petition was received signed by numerous property-owners, asking that an electric light be placed at the intersection of Columbia street and Pasadena avenue. Ordered filed.

On motion, the salary of R. O. Bristol, city engineer, was increased from $50 to $65 per month, on account of extra services at night.

The meeting then adjourned.

THE CASE DISMISSED.

The case against Bosman, the "mae," was dismissed by Justice Seaman, yesterday, owing to the non-appearance of the complainant, witness. Bosman threatened to kill the woman who supplied him, and fired off a revolver in the room where she slept, for which he was arrested. Since then the case has been continued from time to time until it was ordered dismissed.

RELIGIOUS REVIVAL.

The evangelistic meetings at the Baptist Church under the leadership of George R. Cairns continue to grow in interest. His Bible-readings every afternoon are especially profitable to Christians. The subject on Tuesday evening was "The Blood." The speaker showed clearly how and why the world was created, and how we accomplish our salvation. While he is emphatic in his remarks, he is, nevertheless, a clear and logical reasoner, and is listened to with much interest by all who attend the meetings.

ORANGE COUNTY.

Regular Meeting of the Santa Ana Trustees.

A Lively Debate in Which Personalities Were Freely Indulged in—The Supervisors' Meeting—Briefs and Personals.

The Santa Ana trustees met in regular session Monday evening with a full board and the clerk present. It was a stormy session, and no mistake, and the cause of the trouble was the disposition of the old Second-street commissioners in wanting a large slice of the earth and the contents thereof, for having hovered over its fatherly wings certain transactions pertaining to the much-talked-of Second-street railroad, which is expected, some day will be built on through the city and to Garden Grove, Westminster, and the fertile peat-lands districts of Orange county.

President Edinger precipitated the trouble regarding that as a committee appointed to the board of compensation, he was unable to get the part interested to agree.

Mr. and Mrs. J. H. Outhwaite and son have returned from the East, to their Sierra Madre home.

There was no noticeable change in George F. Foster's condition on Tuesday.

Mrs. E. B. Farr returned on Monday summer, Chicago, where she spent the summer.

J. C. Rust has joined partnership with Jessie Vore, in the Pacific Express Company.

A neat smoking-jacket will please most any man. Heiss Bros. have them from $3 to $15.

Mr. and Mrs. C. W. Bonham, and son have returned from the East, to their San Francisco home.

Souvenir handkerchief, worth 25 cents, with every purchase amounting to $2.50 or more, this week, at the Bon Accord.

"The Laughing Girl," which is spoken of as a comedy of excellence, will be presented at the opera house, Saturday night.

A meeting of the Fruit-growers Association will be held at 3 o'clock this (Wednesday) afternoon, at the Board of Trade building.

Glances at the Council proceedings will convince the most skeptical in the matter of street improvements in the city.

Everybody, with the exception of one property-owner, seems to be impressed with the idea that Pasadena has one of the best-paved streets in the country.</p

A MODERN DEPARTMENT HOUSE.

What Shall It Be?

A walk through our store will solve this proposition, and more than that, you will purchase your Holiday necessities lower than you have from us or any other house in Los Angeles in the past 12 years. We are endeavoring to raise all the money that we possibly can from our sales during the month of December, and we are losing sight of profit or ought else to accomplish that end. Don't wait until the last minute, until the aisles are so crowded and the standing room before the counters will be about six feet back, but come in now, when you have ample time, come in the mornings and make your selections; have them laid aside. We will guarantee prompt and perfect delivery in every instance, if we have to work all the express and delivery wagons in Los Angeles.

Our collection this season is doubly as great of a finer class of goods than we ever showed before at this season of the year. Our general stock of merchandise is larger than we have ever carried.

The deacons of the church were of the minority, and recently resigned. As a two-thirds vote is necessary to elect their successors, and as each faction has all along shown equal determination not to yield, the selection of deacons came to be as difficult a matter as the choosing of a pastor, and altogether the church is in a deplorable condition.

"This is to certify that I, Karl Soderberg, had been incapacitated from labor for five months owing to a severe sprain of my right ankle joint, and I continued to grow steadily worse under the treatment of three physicians of this city. I could get around only on an iron brace, and could not sit, stand or walk. I then went to the Los Angeles Medical and Surgical Institute, where I was treated after two months' treatment with them I was able to go to work on a ranch, and have been working every day since. I have gained flesh and strength rapidly." —Karl Soderberg.
